

Without a scrim

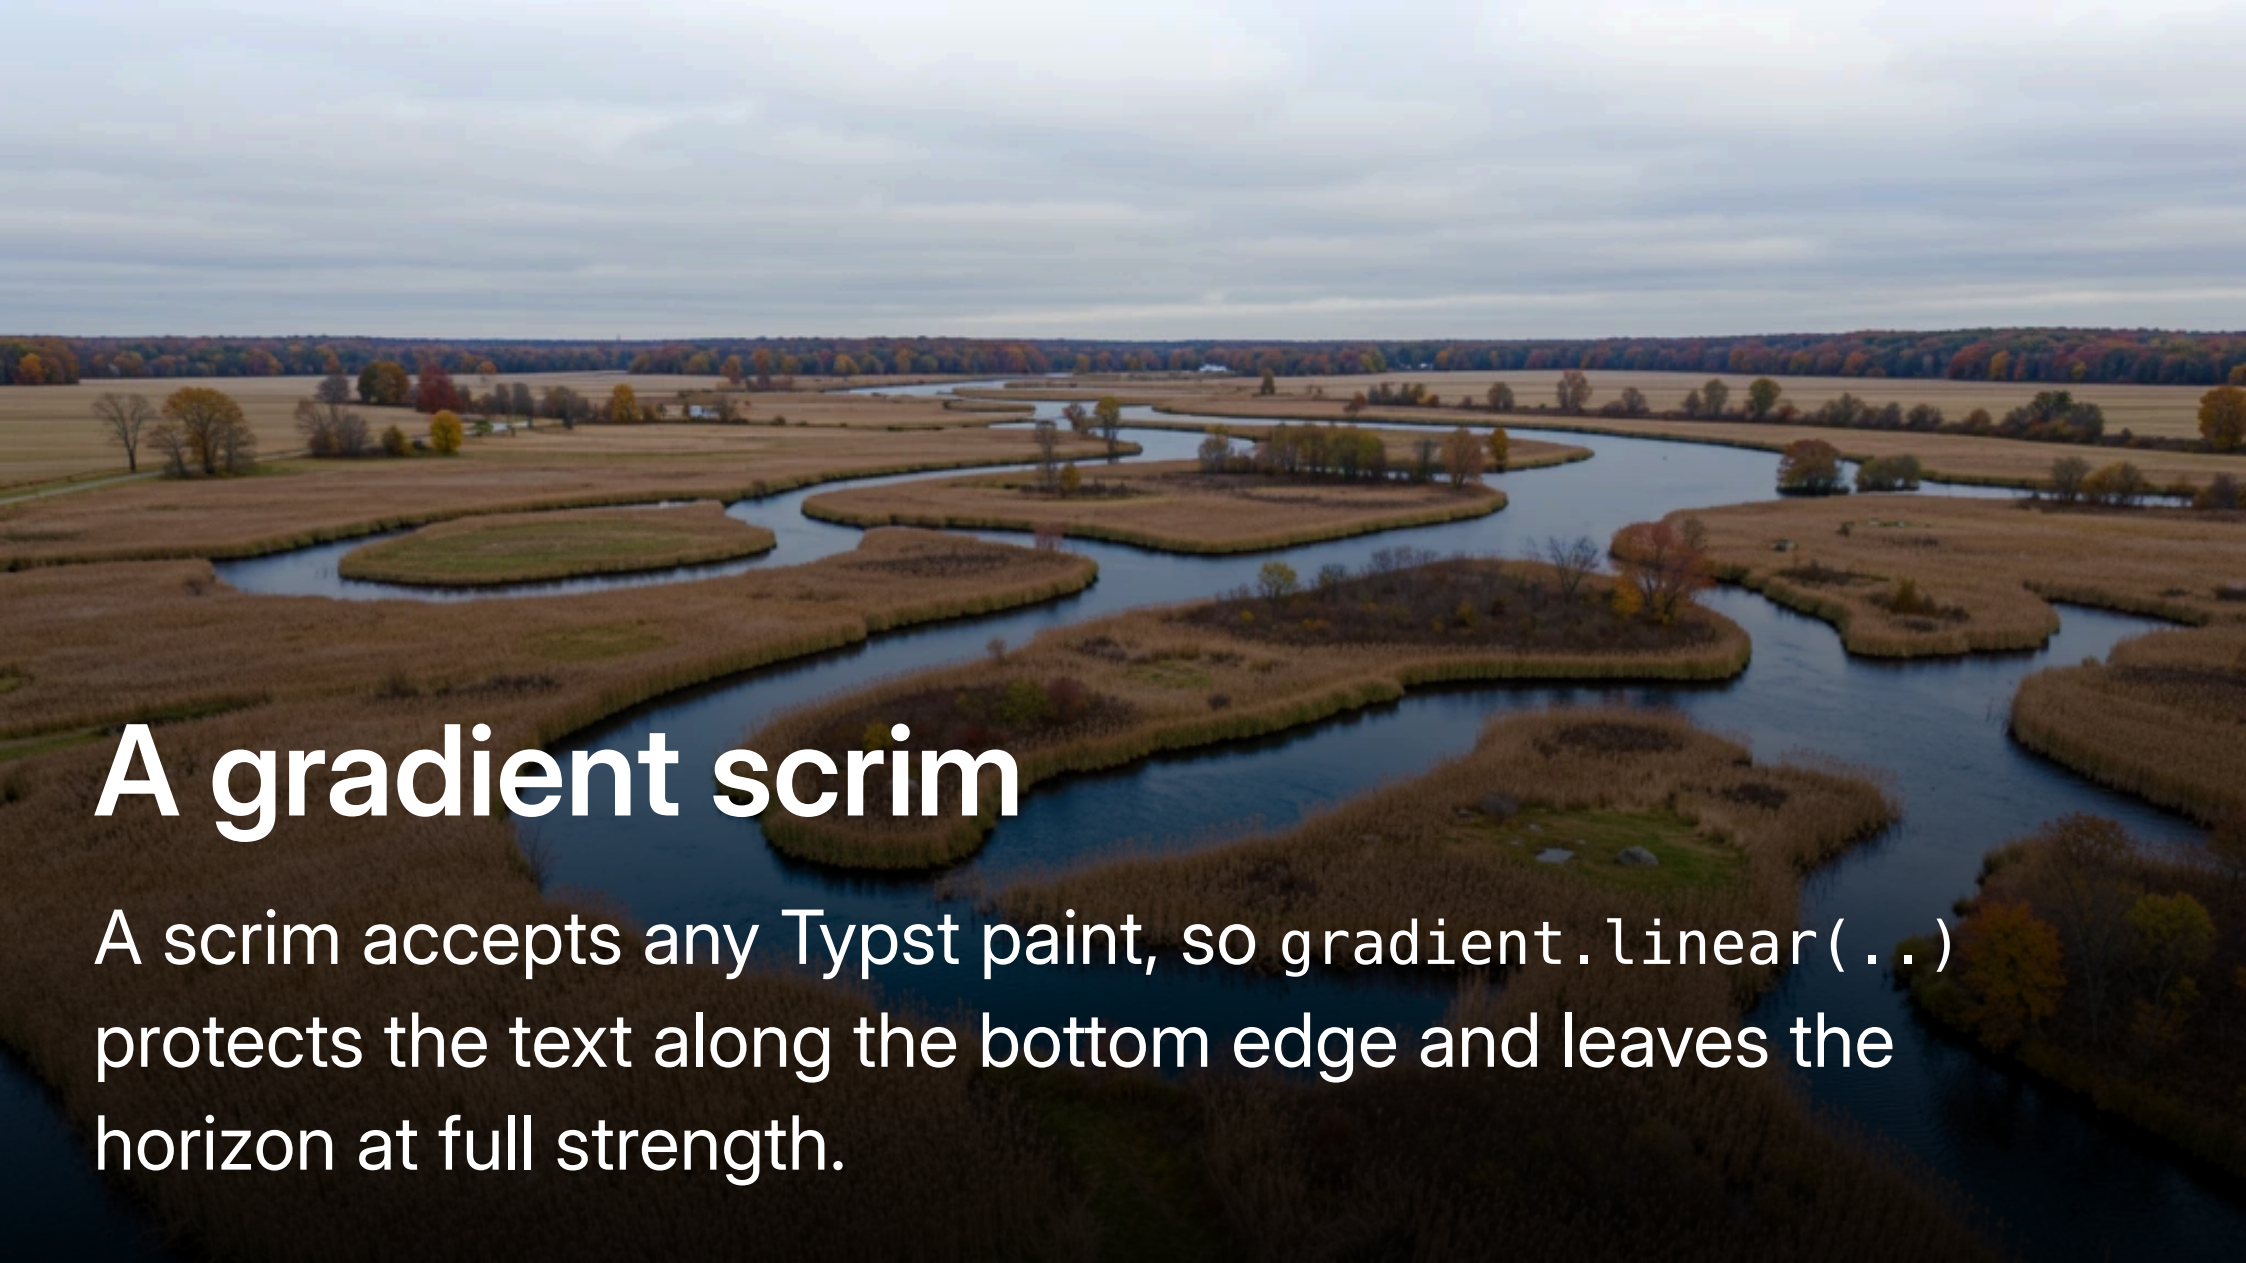

The picture is unmodified, so light text survives over the dark reeds and vanishes against the sky.

A flat scrim

`scrim: black.transparentize(45%)` covers the picture with black at 55% opacity. The text is now readable anywhere on the slide.

An aerial photograph of a winding river or stream flowing through a vast, flat landscape. The river is dark blue and meanders through patches of brown and green marshland. In the background, a line of trees with autumn-colored foliage (yellows, oranges, and reds) stretches across the horizon under a cloudy, overcast sky. The overall scene is serene and natural.

A gradient scrim

A scrim accepts any Typst paint, so `gradient.linear(...)` protects the text along the bottom edge and leaves the horizon at full strength.

A light scrim

`scrim: white.transparentize(25%)` washes the picture out instead, which keeps the deck's ordinary dark text readable and needs no color rule.
